"ROBIN HOOD" THE OPERA AT AURORA

The famous old opera is now on its forty second transcontinental tour, having played practically every town and city in the United States. Never before has the opera had a more excellent cast, every one of the forty is a artist.

A special feature of the company this year, is the criticism that Miss Valentine, directress of the company, is offering to every aspirant of opera singing. At five o'clock in the auditorium of the theatre, she will give to any one advice as to whether their voice is suited for opera or not.

Geraldine Farrar, Orville Harrold and Mary Garden were discovered in this way. If you think you are fitted for this work, don't miss this opportunity. The opera carries one complete car of lighting effects and scenery. This is probably the last time the opera will be in this territory for some time, so don't miss this opportunity, Saturday December 30, at the Princess Theatre.
